Commission Approves 7000 Cast Votes Tuesday Mailing Summons

The Coffee County Commission met Monday in Enterprise. Two members, Albert Dyess and Bennie Beckham, were not present at the meeting. Dyess has missed the last several meetings due to illness.

The first item of business was to open bids on printing tax assessment sheets. Only two bids were received for the classes set at middle school.

Deadline Passed For Independents

This newspaper has received a number of requests for the past two weeks concerning the deadline for an independent to file to run in the General Elections of November. Several requests for information were made locally but no one was up to date with the exact information.

A telephone call to the Secretary of State's office in Montgomery revealed that under current law an independent candidate must file on or before May 4th to run in the general elections. A candidate for a minor party doesn't have to file until 60 days prior to the election, but the party must have held a general rally on or before May 4th.

Commission Approves 7000 Cast Votes Tuesday Mailing Summons

The official returns from the Tuesday run-off election were certified earlier Tuesday night than ever before in the history of Coffee County. The full use of the voting machines and the short ballot combined to give a quick tally of the votes cast.

BENNIE BECKHAM

In Coffee County the lone incumbent in the run-off, County Commissioner Bennie Beckham, Commissioner, District 4, Place 2, won his run-off with Roy Sims by a vote of 4158 to 3510. This was a lead of 644 votes. Beckham had led in the first primary by 1622 votes. Four years ago it was Sims who led in the first primary and Beckham overcame that lead to win in the run-off.

GILMER GRANT

Gilmer Grant came from a 48-vote deficit behind Leon Smart in the first primary to win with an official 499-vote lead. Both men were vying for the office vacated by retiring Commissioner Albert Dyess in District 1.

JIM ELLIS

Jim Ellis retained his May 4th lead to stand off a charge by Jean Parrish in their race for the office of Circuit Clerk. Ellis led by 523 votes. He had by 318 in the first primary.

BILL BOLAND

Bill Boland came from behind Bill Daughtry to capture a seat on the Coffee County School Board. Both men were running for a seat to be vacated by Marion Sanders, who was an unsuccessful candidate for commissioner this year. Boland trailed in the first primary by 307 votes, but came back to win by 480 votes in Tuesday's run-off.

CAROLE KEAHEY

Coffee County voters supported Carole Keahey for U.S. Representative nominee to meet Bill Dickinson in November. Miss Keahey won the nomination. Coffee County gave her a narrow 176 vote lead.

JUANITA MC-DANIEL

Jim Zeigler led in Coffee County in the race for President of the Public Service Commission as he did in the May 4 primary. However, statewide Juanita McDaniel collected enough votes to win the spot. Zeigler led in Coffee County by a whopping 2180 votes.

JACK HORNSBY

Jack Hornsby in District 2 Commissioner race, and Max J. Reeves in District 4, Place 3 Commissioner race were nominated after their run-off opponents declined to run off the wide vote spread.

BOUTWELL, SMITH

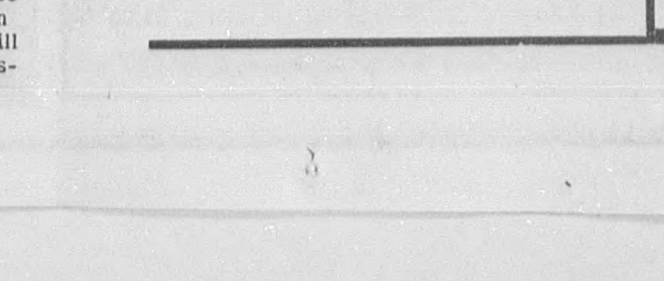

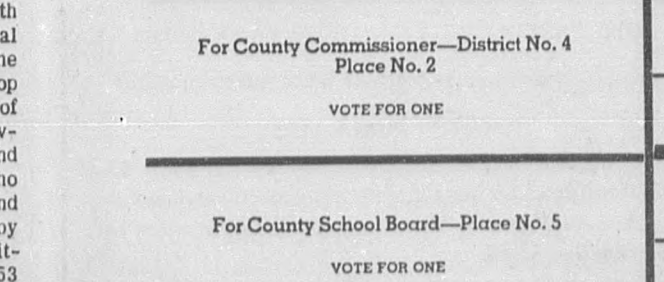

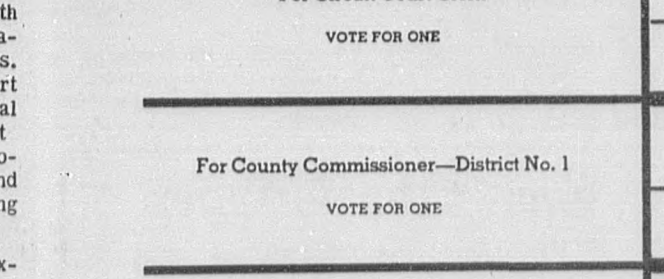

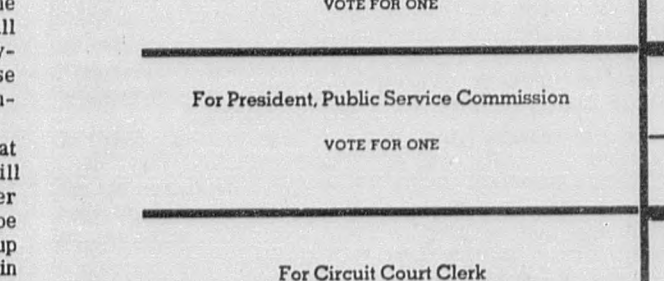

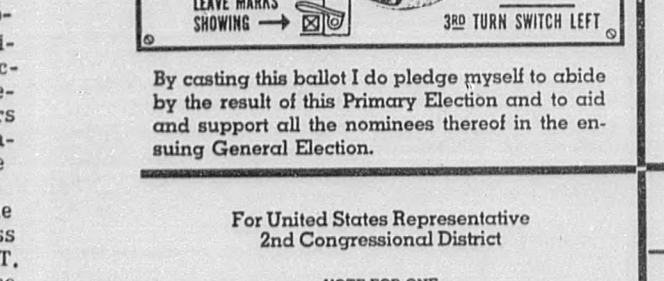

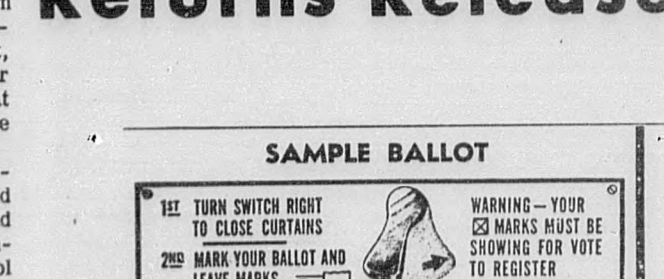

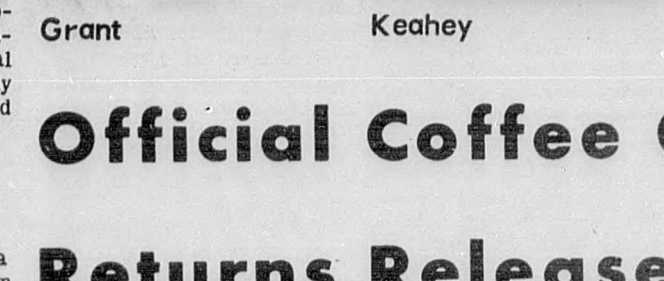

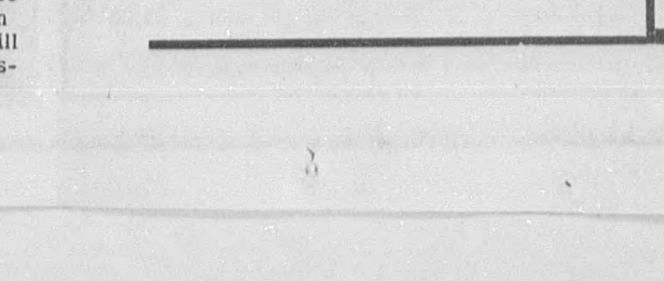

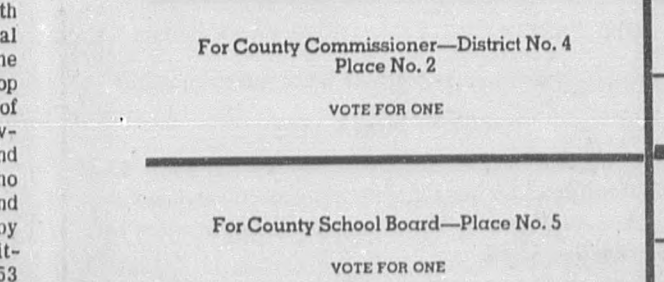

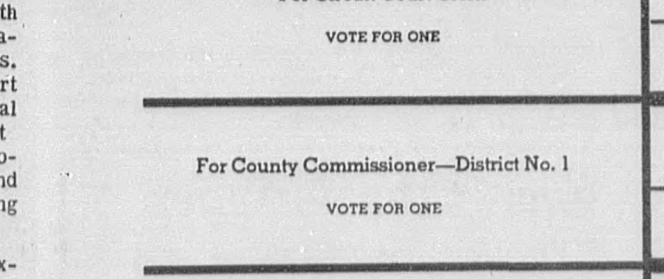

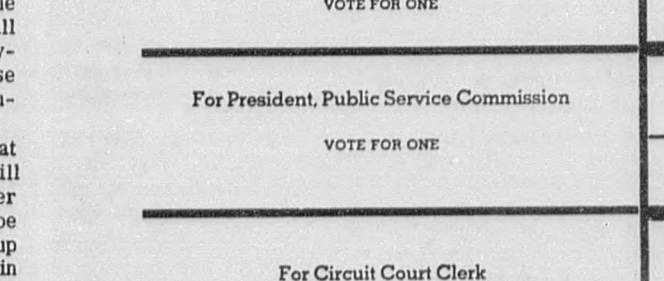

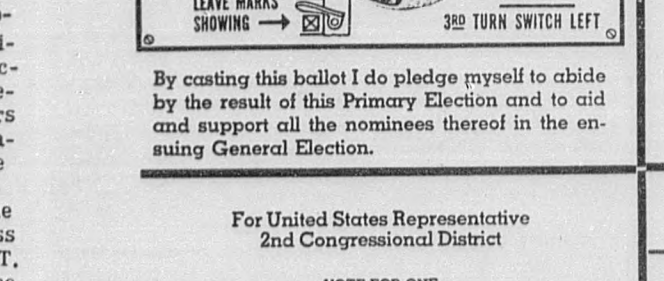

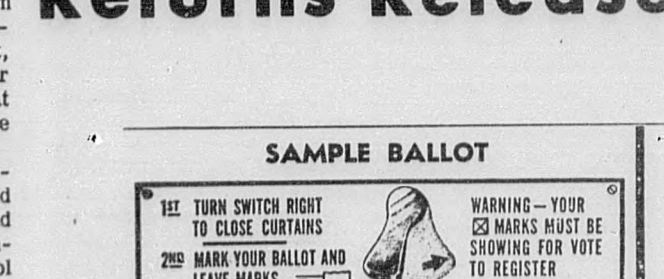

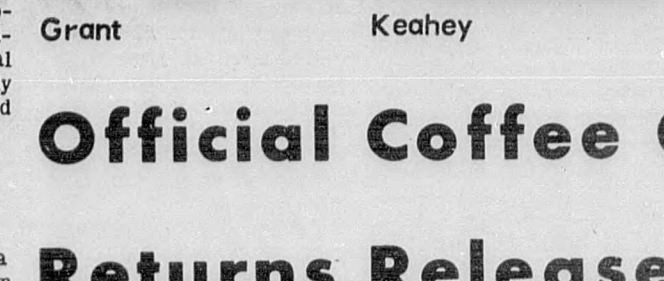

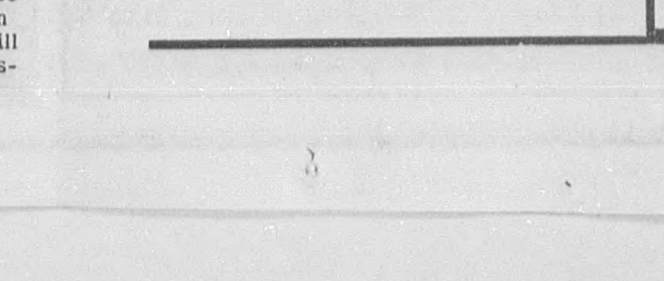

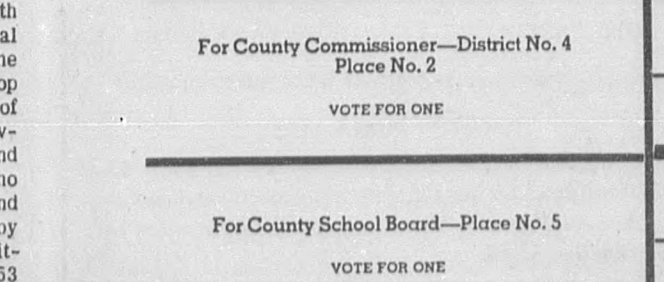

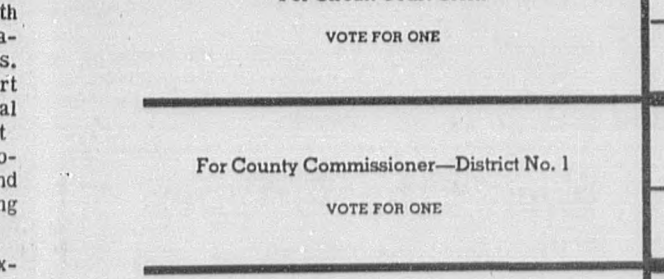

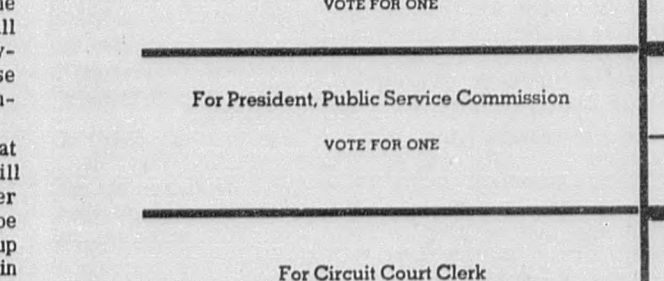

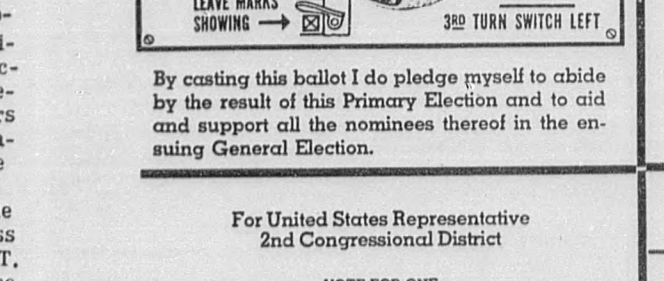

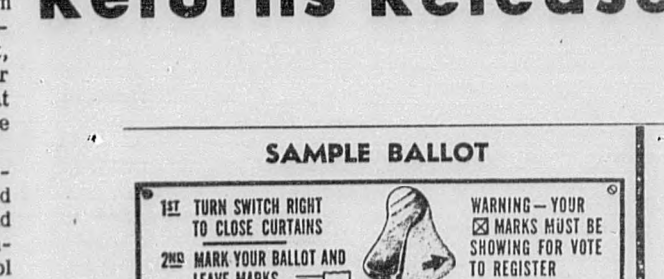

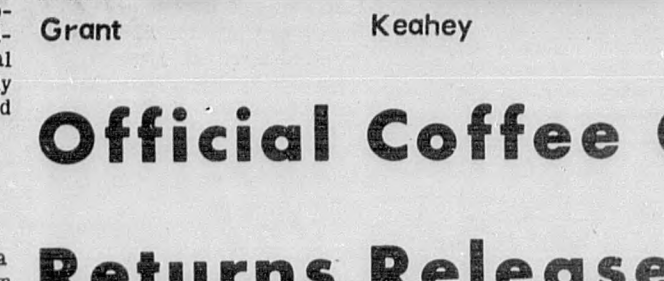

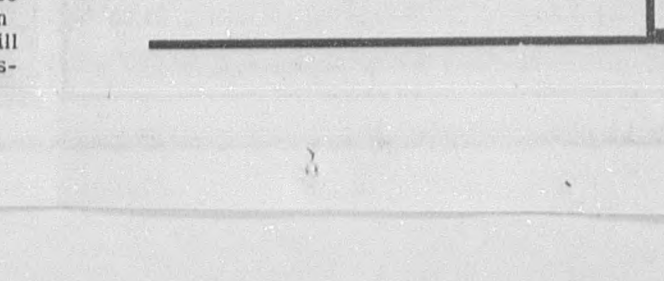

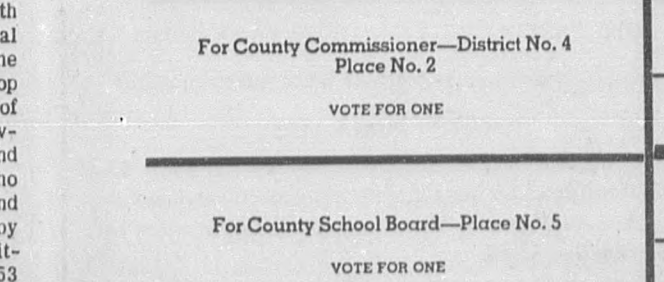

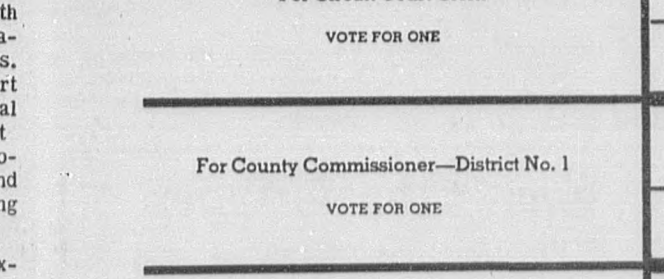

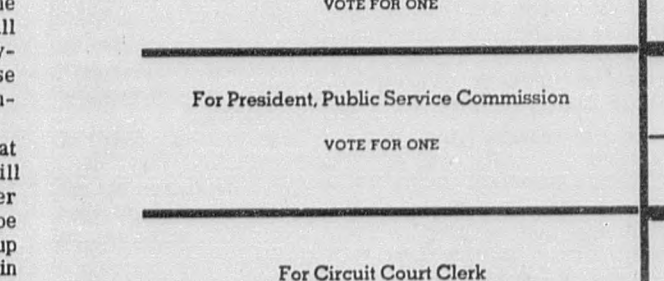

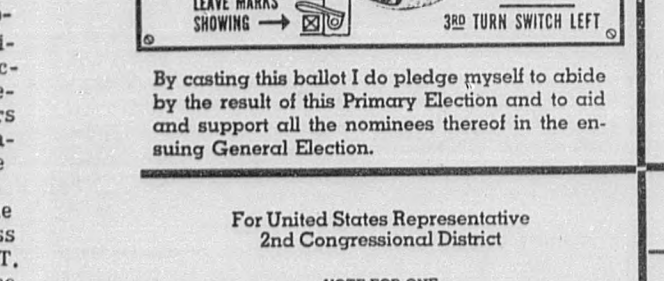

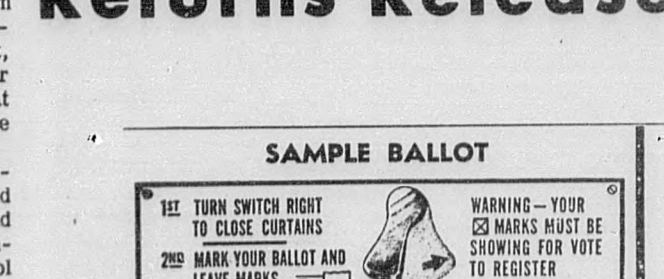

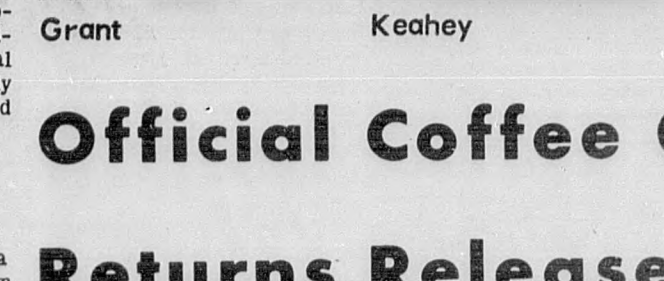

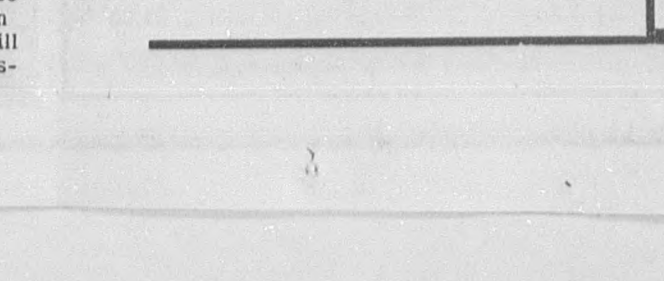

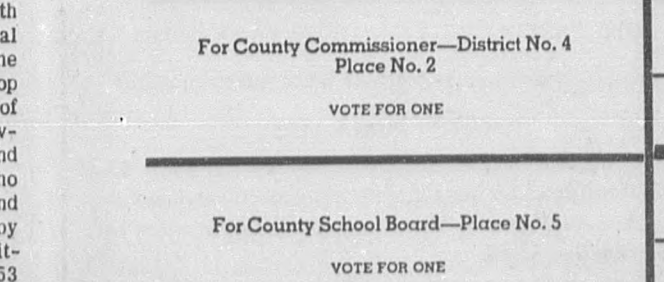

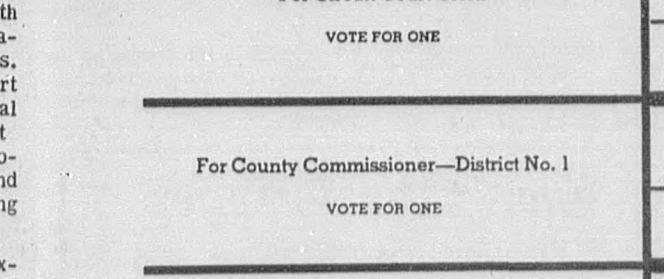

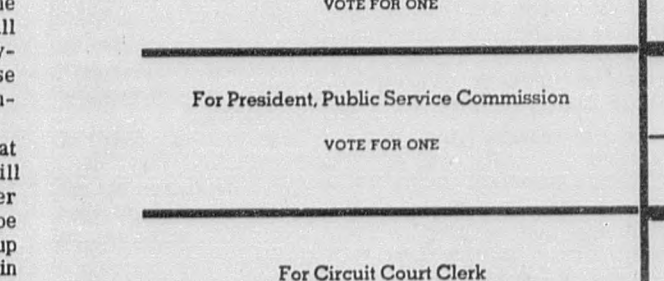

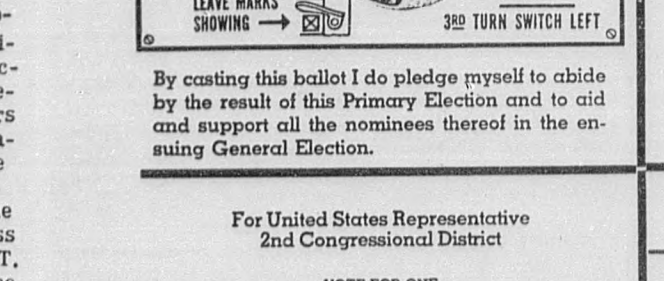

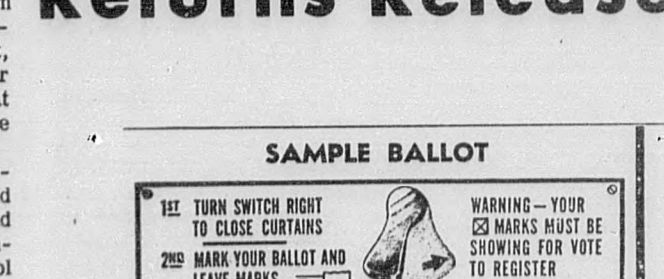

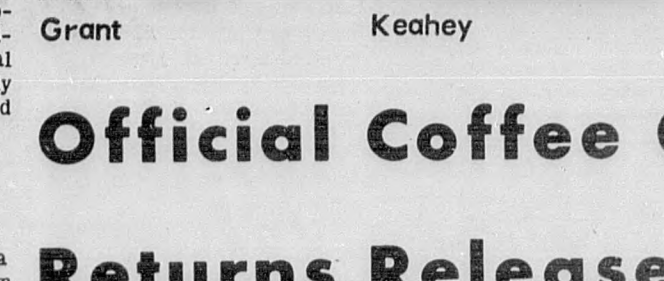

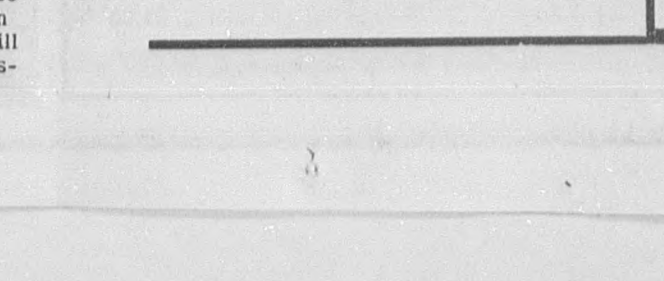

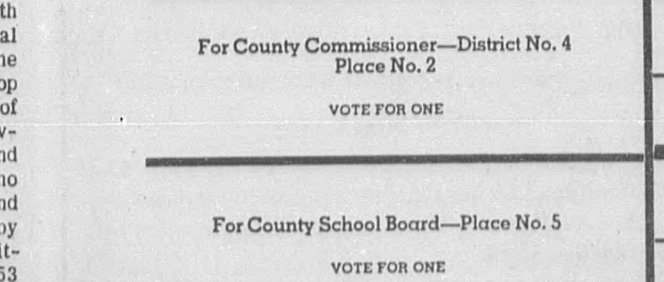

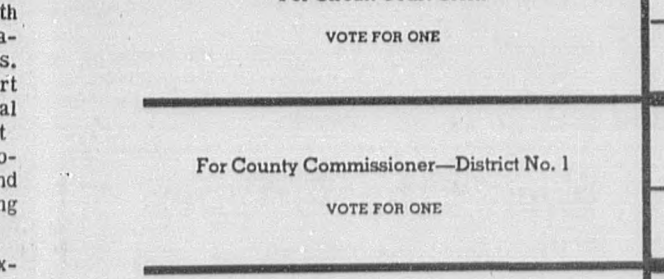

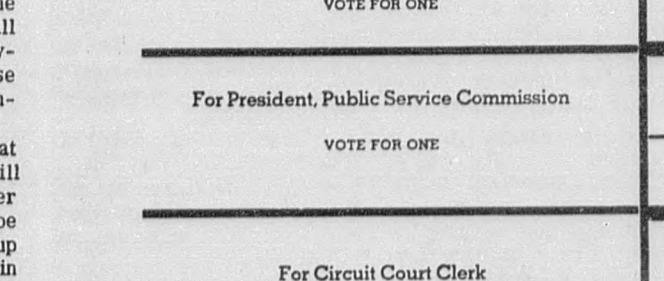

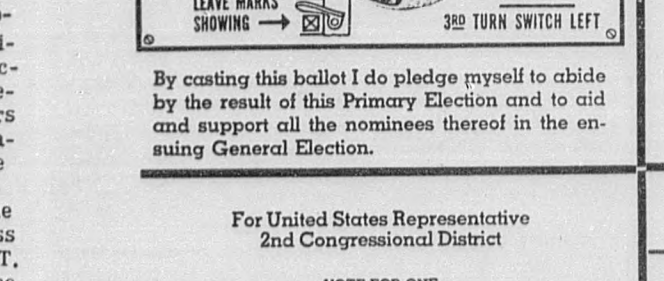

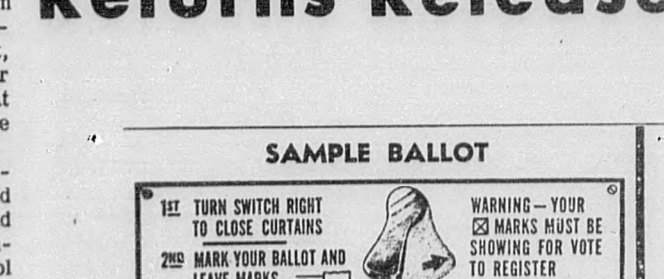

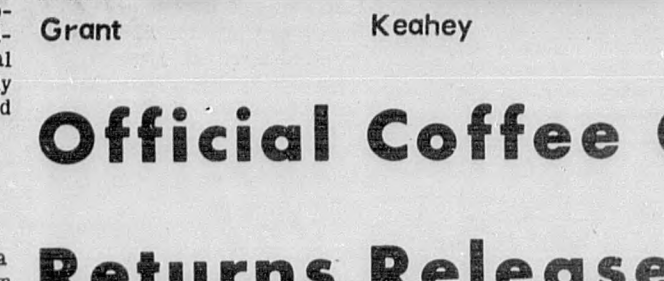

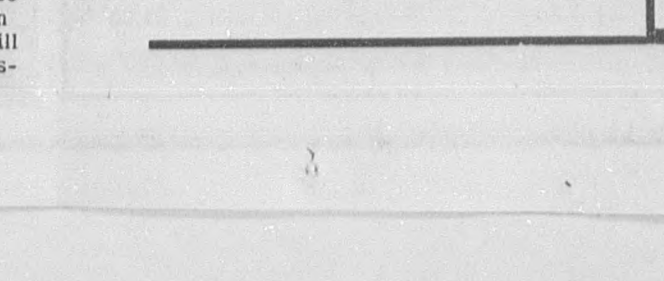

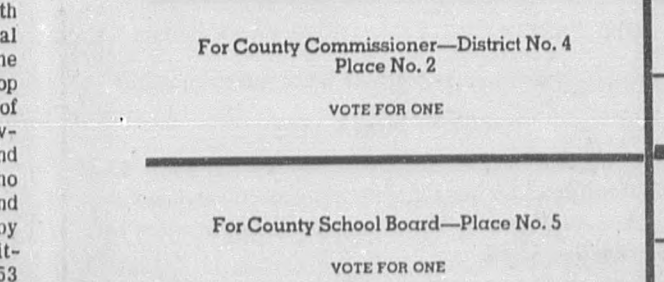

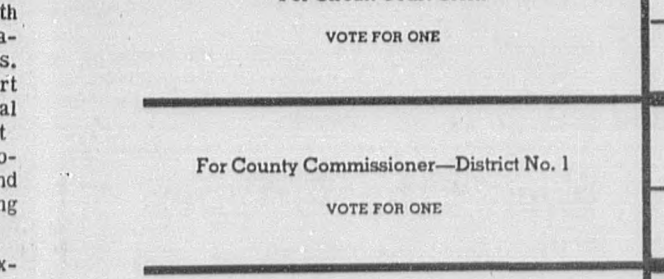

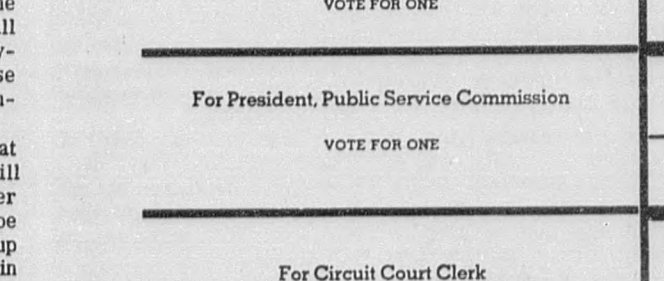

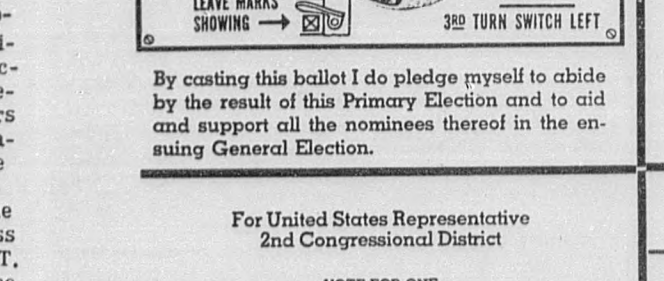

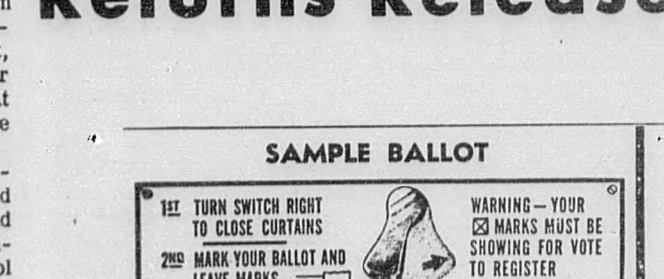

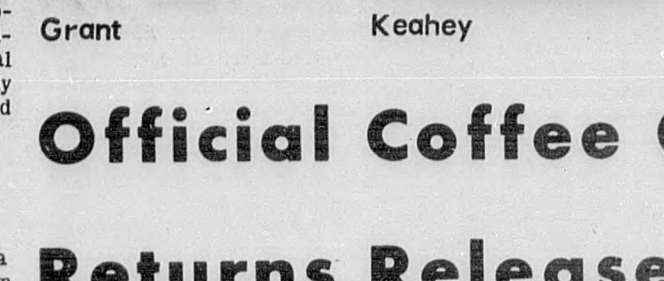

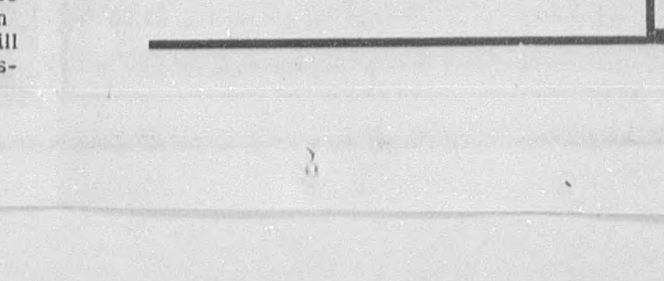

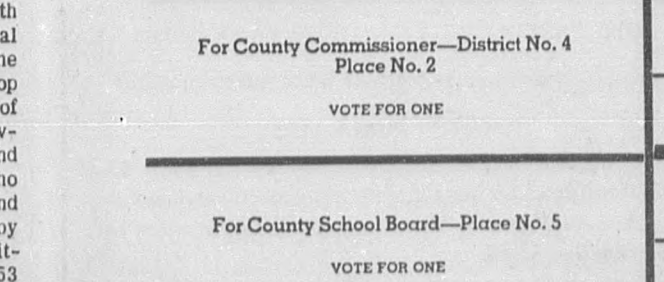

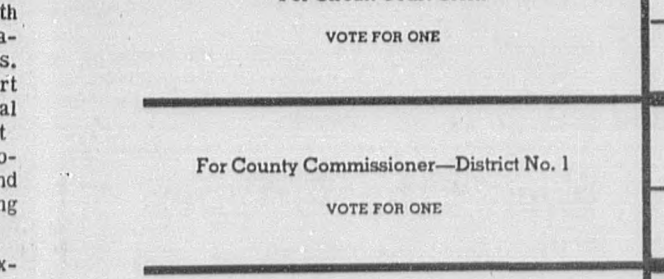

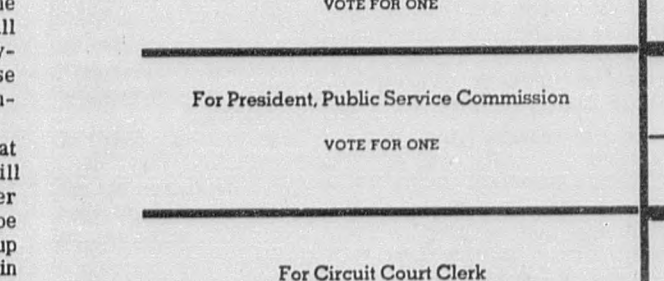

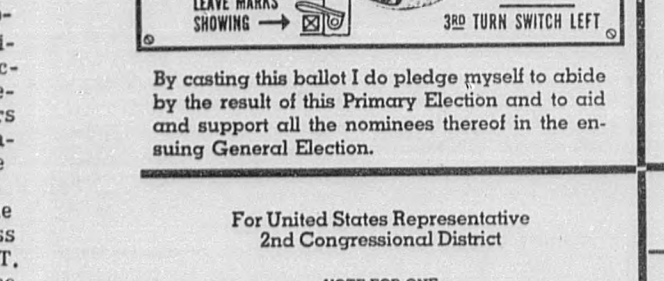

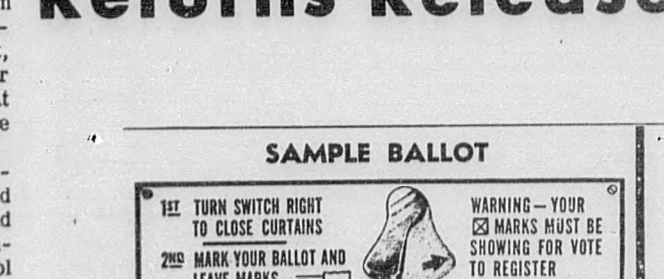

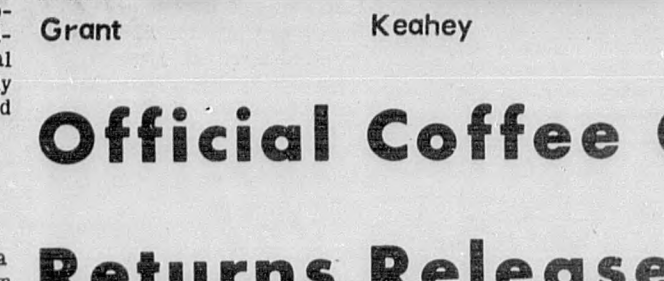

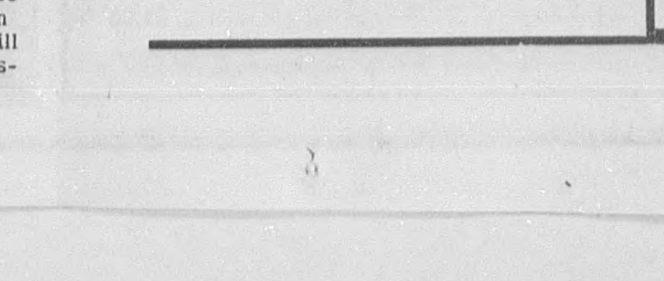

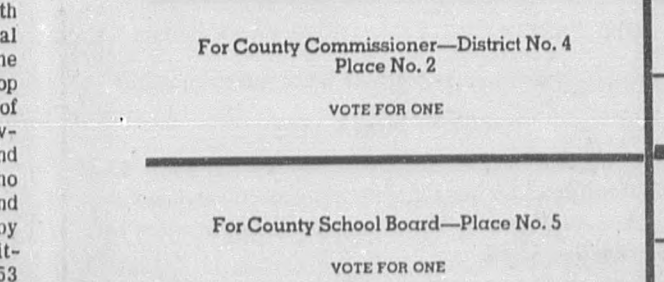

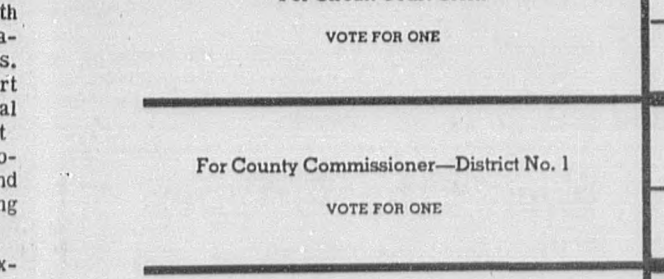

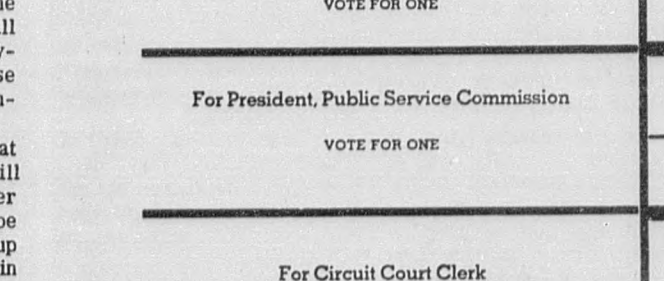

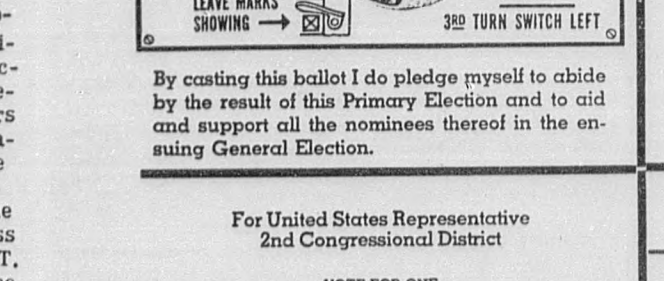

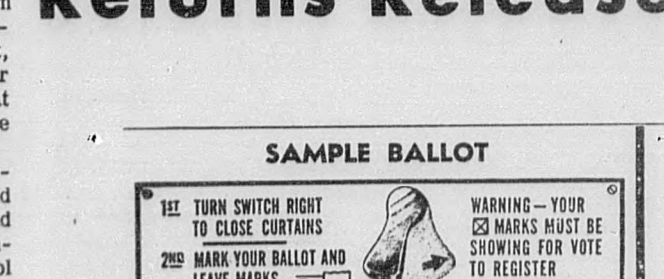

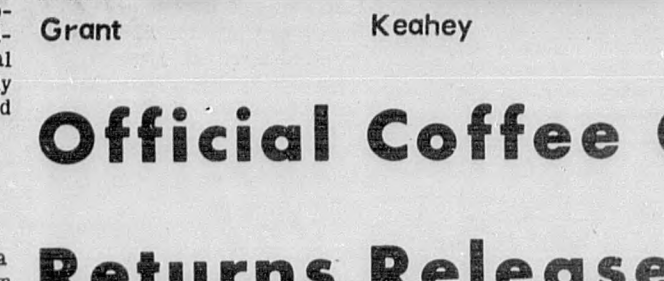

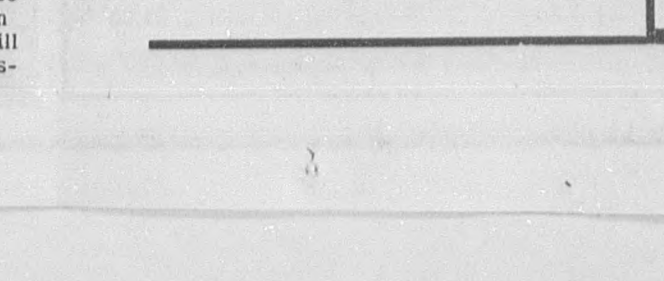

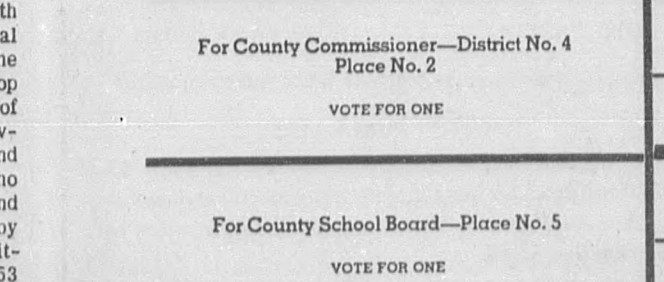

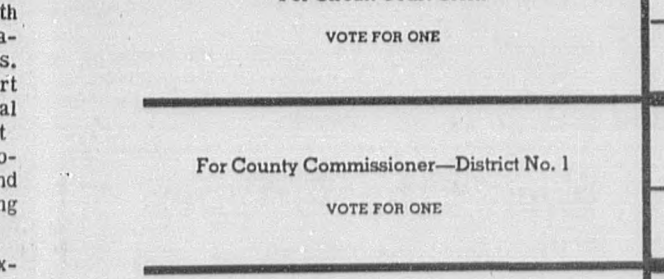

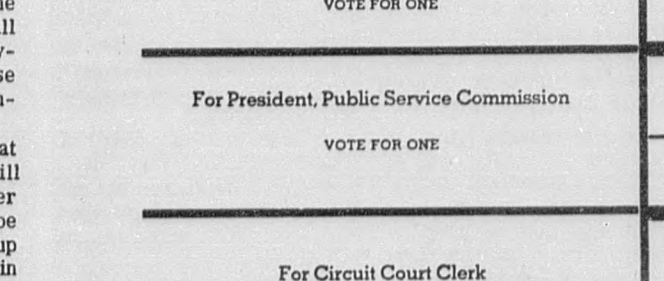

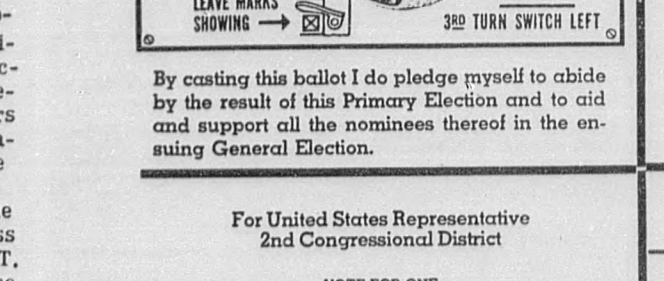

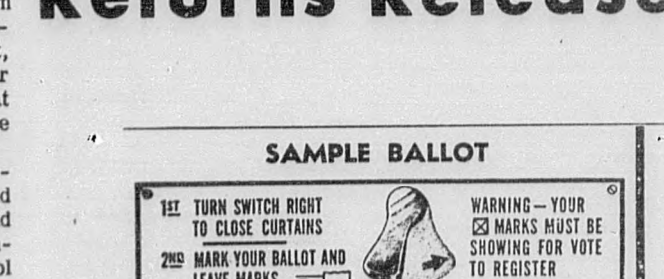

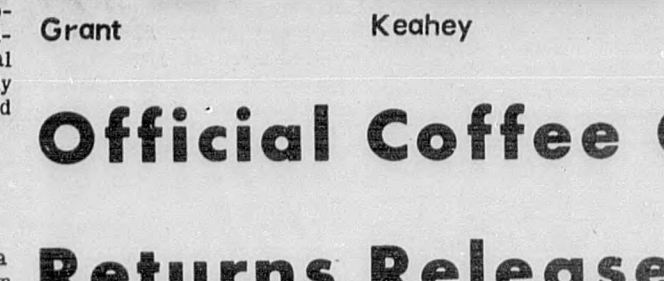

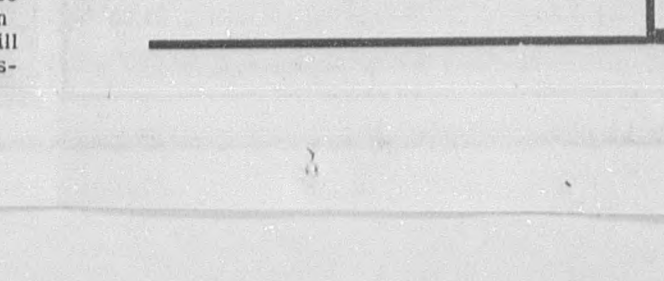

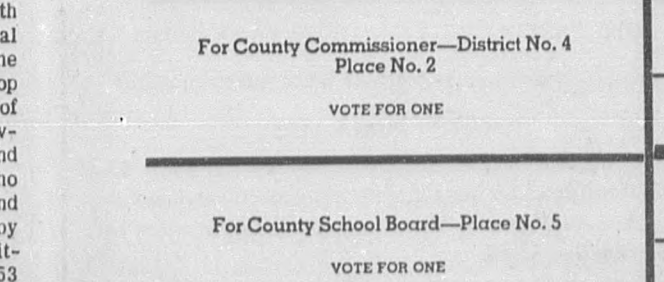

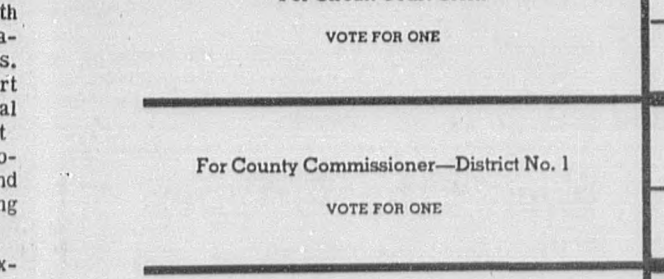

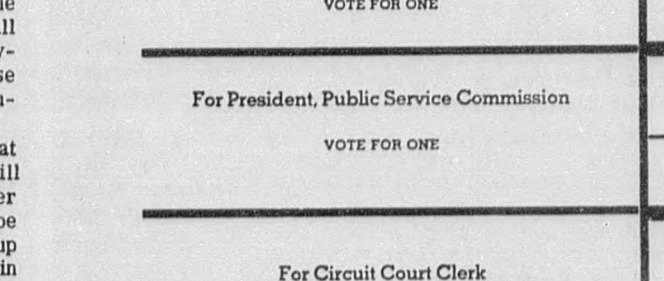

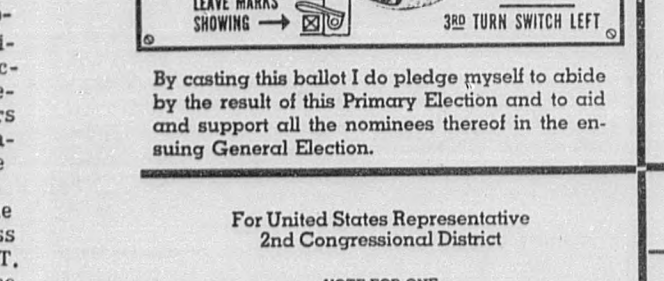

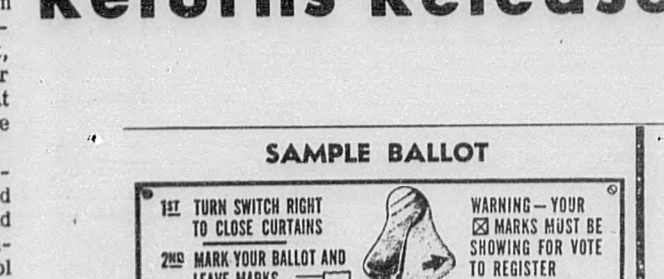

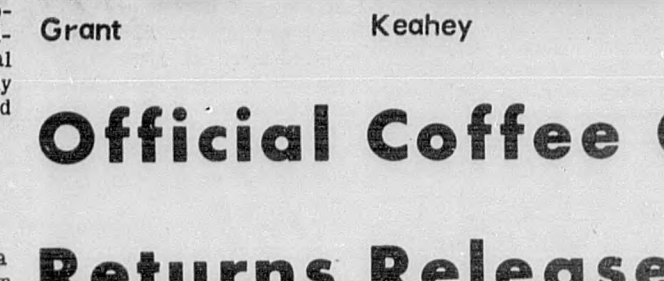

The commission will be rounded out with Rex Boutwell, District 3, and Don Smith, District 4, Place 1. Both won clear nomination in the first primary. Smith is an incumbent and Boutwell was vying for the seat of retiring commissioner Flournoy Whitman.

City Election Qualifying To Begin In June

City elections in Elba will be held on August 10, according to state law.

A notice of the election will be given by the mayor on or before June 15. Qualifying dates will be from this time until July 6. If there is a run-off, it will be held on September 14.

Newly elected city officials will take office the first meeting in October (Tuesday, October 5 in Elba).

BRAINSTORMS

With Fazin Cox

County politics are over for a while, and in just a few weeks we will be deep in the midst of Elba city politics. The folks in Kinston and New Brockton will also be deciding their city officials for the next four years. Locally there is no shortage of potential candidates for office and the list will grow longer from now until qualifying time. At that time the crowd will get a bit thinner because not all of us have what it takes to count our support in public. One reason I know this is that I am one who gets upset with all levels of government, but would be shocked if anyone seriously suggested I put my name on any ballot. Regardless of their political philosophy I have a certain amount of respect for any person who offers himself as a candidate for public office.

A City Council member told me Tuesday night he would vote in favor of giving some of the recently imposed 1¢ sales tax to the schools. In fact he said he would vote to give them $30,000. Later I wondered if he said that much per year or on a one-time basis, but I think he intended to say that much a year. The school is out of money and will probably be asking for some soon. Actually Superintendent Elmer Taylor has scheduled a talk with the Council next week. The School Board instructed (asked) Taylor to inform the city fathers of the financial condition of the schools, but stopped short of instructing him to ask for additional funds at this particular meeting.

After adding up my win-loss results from both the May 4th election and the Tuesday run-off, ye old editor won nine races and lost ten. It took a come-from-behind win in the Public Service Commission race to even give me that record. A couple that I lost don't bother me at all, because I really had no emotions either way, but just cast my vote like someone I respected had asked me to do. A couple, however, I did get emotional over, but regardless, those elected will be my elected officials just as if I had cast the vote that won them the election.

We learn about people in some of the most off-beat ways. Most people show their innermost personality under stress situations. One evening last week I had the opportunity to "discover" Russ Cash. He had asked if he could come and talk with me before this week's paper was printed and I readily said yes. He and I talked for twenty or thirty minutes Friday evening as I was watching the evening news on the tube. In spite of the fact that he admitted he was involved in the egg-throwing at Coach Nolen's home Thursday night, this young man shows far more maturity than many fifty-year-old adults. His apparent intelligence, respect and concern for others who were directly or indirectly involved, convinced me Russ Cash will be a credit to any community and any profession as an adult. All young newspaper editors are told by their elders that "you can't be an editor and everyone's friend, and before you start is the time to decide which you want to be." In this case I almost wilted because I wanted to show Russ -- in spite of this one-foot slipping case -- how much I respected the potential he has and the direction he is apparently headed.

THE MIGHTIEST ENGINE

"Despite the growing influence of government over our lives, the private sector remains the source of the food we eat, the goods we use, the clothes we wear, the homes we live in. It is the source of 85 per cent of all jobs in America and pays the taxes to provide many of the rest of the jobs in our rapidly expanding public sector. It is the foundation for economic security for ourselves and most of the Free World. It is the source of wealth for government spending to aid the elderly, the jobless, the poor, the dependent and the disabled. Indeed, far from being the anti-human caricature painted by political demagogues, American business in reality is the mightiest engine for social progress and individual improvement in all of human history. And even what profit is earned by business is returned to the people—directly to millions of shareholders and indirectly to everyone who has insurance coverage or a stake in a pension plan—or is reinvested in modernized plant that provides new jobs and boosts real earnings." —William E. Simon, Secretary of the Treasury

Letter to Editor

Dear Mr. Cox:
Would you permit me to use your paper as a means of expressing my thanks to all school personnel and former students for letting me be a part of their lives during my teaching career? To superintendents and principals, I hope I always displayed a spirit and attitude of cooperation and helpfulness.

To fellow teachers: It is my desire that I showed friendliness and always assumed my share of the load. To students: My hope is that I displayed a spirit of love and compassion while trying to impart knowledge and build character. I would also like to thank the state of Alabama, Coffee County, and the Elba City School Board for allowing me to have this wonderful opportunity and privilege of being a part of their school system.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our deepest appreciation for every kindness shown during the sickness and death of our loved one, Johnny LADON ALLEN. A special thanks for food, flowers, prayers and visits. May God bless each of you.

Senator Sparkman Answers Questions

QUESTION: Senator Sparkman, as Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, you see and talk with a lot of famous people in just a week's time. Who are some of these people that you have had contacts with recently? J. A. Vernon ANSWER: Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, of course, I have frequent contact with him. The Foreign Minister of Turkey was here and I had lunch with him a few days ago; Thomas Gates, who is going to Peking as our representative over there, an ambassador you might call him; King Hussein of Jordan had lunch with us in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. We had Pat Moynihan, former United Nations Ambassador, and the King of Spain is coming, the King of Sweden is coming and in July Queen Elizabeth of England is coming.

QUESTION: Do you have a good example of American democracy impacting on other nations? B. W., Birmingham

ANSWER: The world is being Americanized, not Russianized or Chineseized. Some people overseas say they fear it. Many nations' rulers have from time to time tried to keep American influence away from their people. But even such countries as Russia and her satellites want our technology to raise standards of living. With the rising aspiration of people whose lives are improving, comes a greater stability in world affairs and a betterment of the human condition.

BY: KENNETH R. BALL
Health Services Administrator

The Coffee County Health Department, in an effort to inform the citizens of Coffee County of the variety of services that are available to them from the Coffee County Health Department will be releasing weekly articles pertaining to the many services that are available. I would like to inform the citizens of Coffee County of the Home Health Care Program, which was started in 1966 and has been carried out by the County Health Department up to this date.

Home Health Care covers a variety of services that are rendered by qualified personnel to persons who are home-bound due to sickness, accidents, or other related causes. I will break this Home Health Care Program down into two articles. The first deals with the Medicaid and Medicare eligibility aspect and the second deals with all other Home Health Care. What is Home Health Care? Home Health Care is a program under the Medicare Program. It is for people age 65 or over who are home-bound health care services during their period of illness and recovery while they are home-bound. Medicare is divided into two special segments. Part A: the hospital insurance consisting of 100 home visits is available following a qualified hospital stay. Part B: the medical insurance consisting of 100 home visits with no requirement of prior hospitalization.

The following services are available from your County Health Department: skilled nursing care, treatment by therapists, home nursing aide services, medical equipment services, and medical supply services which are prescribed by your doctor and are covered under the Medicare program.

Why is Home Health Care important? First of all, it gives you more freedom as related to confinement of hospitalization; secondly, the enjoyment and pleasure of being in your own home; third, the including exercises, use of wheelchairs, crutches, canes and help teach other family members how to help the patient use this equipment. These services continue under the physician's orders.

Home Health Aides provide needed care for patients under a doctor's orders which include bathing, personal grooming, walking, etc.

School life is over for the EHS Seniors of '76. Most of us have mixed emotions about graduating. We want so badly to graduate and yet, we don't want to leave our old or new friends. Each year it's the same thing. Seniors walk along, in file, as a tear on two girls' faces in their eyes, occasionally one finding his way down their cheeks. Yet, even though we will shed tears, we will go out into the world to do our thing. Whatever it may be. We will strive for what we may and make our own pathways. I wish for all of my fellow classmates, the very best. Always remember our class motto: "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music he hears, however measured and far away." LISA SHARPLESS

Youths Admit Eggging, Must Clean House

Hazardous duty pay is not normally paid to newspaper photographers, but in some cases it might be justified. However, in the above photo the picture fell far short of the street where the photographer was standing; but it did wonders for the emotions of the teenager (Pete Cash) who sent it sailing off the roof of the house.

Young Cash, his brother Russ, Jim Rogers and Scott Gibson were cleaning some broken raw eggs off the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Nolen last Friday just before the picture was snapped. The eggs had been thrown Thursday night, according to a statement Nolen made to the Elba police. The teenagers reportedly admitted the incident and were attempting to remove the eggs from the house. Just before the photo was snapped, at least one of the boys stepped over to the other side of the roof and thus avoided the picture.

Tuesday Nolen signed warrants against two of the boys, Russ Cash and Jim Rogers. Law officers expressed an opinion that after all the egg had been removed from the house, the charges would probably be dropped. There was probably a misunderstanding between Nolen and these two youths, according to law officers. Two of the boys (Pete Cash and Scott Gibson) had returned later Friday to check the house again but the other two boys didn't return as Nolen had expected. One of the youths told officers Tuesday that he thought his having a regular job Friday afternoon had caused Nolen to tell him it was OK not to return unless he was contacted. The charge on the warrants was vandalism in the violation of the Elba City code.

LOVE IS . . .

Love is like the water, that runs in the spring. Love is like the "I Love You" song that I sing.

Love is like the flowers, that sits in a vase. Love is like the boys I go with on dates.

Love is like a dove, that flies high in the sky. Love is like the sparkle which is the sparkle of your eye.

Love is like the flower, that grows in the sand. Love is like the good things that come in a can.

Love is like the sprinkles, of the early morning dew. But to me love only means, having only you.

How I wish so much for love to be mine, because just the meaning of love is so very kind. BY P.M. WILKERSON & CHERYL HANCHEY

"THE LORD IS GOOD"

From time to time, people can be heard to say, "Why did this particular thing happen to me, or to my loved ones?" Questions like this usually reflect the attitude of the questioner as to the goodness of God. The implication is that if God is good, why do certain things happen. The writer of psalm 100 must have heard this question many times and he hastens to affirm in the last verse of the Psalm, "The Lord is good." Without a basic belief in the goodness of God, it is impossible to come to grips with the problems that life presents. The affirmation of faith in the goodness of God needs to be more than just a statement. It needs to be a careful and honest investigation of the evidences for the goodness of God. Let us look at "from several" evidences.

There's a lot of talk about what is important to young people in this country today. There is one thing that is important to almost every youth. A lot of it is of concern to teenage boys and girls. Unusually, acne is not only a physical problem but is also psychologically disturbing to young people.

Creams and other medications are available in this pharmacy which are helpful in controlling acne in many cases. You should consult your family doctor before using medications. He may prescribe for you or send you to a skin specialist for additional treatment. We have the medications to fill their prescriptions.

You can help yourself by washing your face several times daily and avoiding fatty and sweet foods. You should particularly avoid eating chocolate and pork.

First Baptist Welcomes Youth

Director

Tommy Phelps, a University of Montevallo senior, has assumed the position of Summer Youth Director at the First Baptist Church of Elba. Tommy is from Birmingham, Alabama and has been very active in the ministry of the church. He served as a Student Summer Missionary during the summer of 1975 in the state of Connecticut, and has been very active in the Baptist Student Union at the University of Montevallo. After graduating from the University of Montevallo next year with a degree in Guidance and Counseling, Tommy would like to serve as a Missionary.

Tommy will be directing all the youth activities at the First Baptist Church of Elba this summer.

The First Baptist Church proudly recommends to the youth of our city Tommy Phelps.

Second, the goodness of God is clearly revealed in His providential care for man. It is easily discovered that man, left to his own devices, could not sustain life on the earth. God sends the rain to water the earth, the sun to warm the earth, and all of the other natural phenomena which testify of His determination to provide and protect His created order.

Many of my readers make suggestions for future columns, and I file them away for later reference. Several months ago a reader in Indiana asked that I prepare a story about two of my great-aunts, Rosa Hampton and Donnie Martin. Donnie has since passed away, but a column on the two elderly women is on the way.

Recently, Joe Doyle of Springfield, Ohio, asked about the first autograph I'd gotten. A friend of his who reads "Mountain Moments" in the CLAIBORNE PROGRESS clips the column each week and sends it to him - and he passes it along to his mother.

I have never collected autographs but I save many letters written to me. However, I remember the first autograph my brother, Leroy, got. When we were young boys, cowboy movies were big, and most of the neighborhood youth attended the Saturday movies.

One day a favorite cowboy star was to appear at the local Theatre. His name was Rocky Lane, and we were anxious to see him in person.

The theatre was crowded as you might expect, and excitement ran high. The movie started Rocky Lane and for over an hour we sat and cheered while our "hero" chased, fought and swapped gunfire with outlaws.

When the movie ended, we formed a line and waited for the movie star. He brought 8x10 inch pictures of himself in a well-known pose and signed the pictures for each anxious fan who had the 25¢ to purchase one.

Although I didn't obtain an autographed picture, I stood in line with Leroy and became almost excited as he was. On the picture of Allen "Rocky" Lane was misplaced and remains only in our memory as a happy day of our childhood.

It's kind of sad that childhood passes so quickly and the responsibilities of adult life crowd us. Too soon we lose the excitement of youth and grow old before it's time to do so.

Thanks again, Mr. Doyle for reminding me about a day at the movies and an autograph of Rocky Lane!

WESTSIDE YOUTH TO PRESENT MUSICAL

On Sunday, May 30 at 8:00 P.M., the Westside Youth Choir will present the folk musical "Tell It Like It Is" in the auditorium of the Westside Baptist Church. "Tell It Like It Is" is a musical that deals with the problems of people who try to believe in God but because of many outside forces, have difficulty accepting the responsibility.

Though singing, stage action, and special lighting effects the choir will try to convey some of the problems that face today's youth in a real life situation.

After their performance Sunday evening the choir will travel to Dothan on Wednesday, June 2, to WTVY for a video-tape session. The program will be aired Tuesday morning, June 8, at 7:30 A.M. The public is invited and urged to attend this presentation on Sunday evening.

HANK KENNEDY ACCEPTS HEAD COACH POST AT OPP

(BY RICKY MULLEN, SPORTS EDITOR)

Hank Kennedy, head basketball coach at New Brockton High School, informed THE ELBA CLIPPER this week that he will resign from his present position to accept the head basketball post at Opp High School.

In a telephone conversation with Kennedy on Tuesday, the new-opp coach confirmed his intentions to resign, and announced he has accepted the post at Opp.

Kennedy came to New Brockton in 1974, and in two seasons at the Camecock helm led New Brockton to a 46-14 record, two area championships, and one region title. During his two-year stay at New Brockton, Kennedy played a predominantly 3A-4A schedule, despite the fact that New Brockton is only a Class A school.

Kennedy declined to comment on his resignation Tuesday, but said, "I am looking forward to moving to Opp. I feel that by coaching at a larger school, I will have better opportunities for advancement in the future."

In closing, Kennedy said, "I had a chance to move up, and I took it."

Wise's, Dorsey Reds Maintain Softball Lead

Wise's and the Dorsey Reds both won Monday night to remain tied for first in the men's softball league.

Nasco was led at the plate by Travis Nunn and Keith Fuller, each claiming two hits, while Max Farris went 4 for 4 to pace the losers.

Woodland Grove tallied three runs in the top of the sixth on four singles, but Wise's scored 7 runs in their half of the frame to make the final score 22-5.

Dorsey used clutch hitting and countless K. Kare errors in the fourth and fifth-innings to go ahead 10-6, and apparently put the "icing on the cake".

However, Karpel Kare used his power to tie the game, and scored three runs and grab a 10-9 lead. The score read 21-11 going into the final inning, but K. Kare refused to quit, and tallied 8 runs to pull within 21-19 with two-outs, with two men on.

In Tuesday night's opener the White Sox's Frank Thomas tied the game, and the game ended in a tie.

Dorsey Reds' was led by Heath Bullard, who walked 5 for 5, while Buck Jackson blasted two triples and two home runs to go 4-4.

NO COACH HIRED YET AT KINSTON

(BY RICKY MULLEN, SPORTS EDITOR)

With the current school year quickly drawing to a close, Kinston High School faces the possibility of going into the summer without a football coach.

The current vacancy occurred four weeks ago when Jerry Brown resigned as head football coach.

In a telephone conversation with Johnny Vaughan, Asst. Superintendent of Education in Coffee County, Mr. Vaughan stated that "4 or 5" applications had been received, but the County School Board wanted "to take it's time and get a good man."

Vaughan said Stan Moss, an assistant coach at Arab, was the top pick, but THE ELBA CLIPPER learned Wednesday that Moss had accepted a prep coaching post in Tennessee.

Vaughan added that no previous head coaches had applied, and applications were still being accepted.

In closing, Mr. Vaughan said that the Board hoped to name a new coach by the first week in June, but hinted that the Board was still going to look around.

KIMMEL SIGNS CAGE PACT WITH T.S.U.

All-state guard Robert B. Kimmel, Jr., of Tallahassee, Fla., has accepted a basketball franchise-in-kind to Troy State University.

Kimmel, a 6-2 guard, is the second basketball player to accept an athletic grant this season.

A four-year letterman and the 1976 most valuable player for North Florida Christian High School, Kimmel averaged 21.6 points per game.

In addition to his athletic accomplishments, Kimmel was also his high school's student council president, a Boys State representative and messenger for the state house of representatives.

"Robert has an outstanding athletic and classroom record and we feel fortunate that he selected TSU," Trojan coach Wes Bizzila said.

Kimmel has been named to numerous all-star teams and as a junior, was the leading prep scorer in the Tallahassee area.

Earlier this week, Bizzila announced that Terry Baker, a 6-1 guard from Greenwood, Ind., was the first scholarship recipient of the year.
